The Wholehearted Journey

Bringing Qualities of Soul to Everyday Life and Work

Denise Bissonnette
Table of Contents

Acknowledgements

Introduction

1 I Dedicate This Day—Bringing the Sacred into the Everyday .........................1
   Be both Here and There ◆ Read the signs of a dispirited life ◆ Bring the gift of intention
   Take a cue from Brother Lawrence ◆ Dedicate your day ◆ Transform habits into rituals
   Re-set your perceptual lenses ◆ Remember how you wish to live

2 Unlived Dreams and Rising Bread—Shaping Fresh Hope from New Dreams ........21
   Treat your dreams like sweet peas ◆ Open your fists to swing from new branches
   Be careful what you hope for ◆ Put your imagination to work on your life’s behalf
   Hold fast to your ability to dream new dreams ◆ Have faith in your discontent
   Let go of the bread and regain the sky

3 Arriving—Embracing the Unknown ...............................................................35
   Trust the frontier ◆ Learn to operate in the dark ◆ Journey toward possibility Allow the search to stir the soul ◆ Be vigilant to the flame of hope ◆ Choose the path with heart

4 Nurture Your Nature—Celebrating Your Gifts ..............................................51 Kick the habit of comparison ◆ Move the elephant away from the pole ◆ Embrace your limitations and your potential ◆ Celebrate the differences in our gifts ◆ Find the context for your genius ◆ Bring the medicine of what you love

5 Rekindle the Flame—Restoring Purpose and Passion ....................................67 Embrace the process of meaning-making ◆ Build cathedrals ◆ Consider the load on your back ◆ Mirror values while awaiting the arrow of purpose ◆ Believe in tiny, invisible forces

6 The Masquerade—Befriending Yourself and Others ......................................81
   Don’t be a stranger ◆ Befriend yourself ◆ Be careful of what you think you aren’t
   Be careful what you pretend to be ◆ Don’t be defined by the roles you play
   Dare to act out of character ◆ Let the witch have her ride ◆ Dare to live in the question,
   “Who am I?”

7 New Wings—Moving Through Fear ...............................................................99
   Befriend the dragon ◆ Feed your courage with the aid of an inner mentor
   Dip into your belly faith ◆ Soar on wings of choice ◆ Be among the movable
   Take the hundredth blow
Lessons from the Apple Tree—Accepting Change ................................. 117
Take the unknown one piece at a time • Learn from the earth how to transition with grace
Accept your seasons • Find comfort in the constancy of change • Allow darkness to be a gift • Cultivate patience for cycles • Be as the flower in your blossoming

Meadowlarks—Renewing the Joy of Giving ........................................ 135
Sing for the joy of singing • Allow “added value” to spring from the heart
Make a habit of generosity • Practice “royal giving” • Consider the spirit of the gift • Be someone’s Sister Ann Marita

The Puppeteer—Pulling Your Own Strings ......................................... 153
Claim your power • Choose to respond rather than react • Live the prayer of St Francis Sweep your own front steps • Embrace the world before working to change it
Be a believer in seeds

The Beauty of Today—Seizing the Day ............................................... 167
Live knowing you will die • Choose important over urgent • Seize the present day
Think moment to moment • First move, then enjoy the ride of momentum • Finish each day and be done with it

The Journey to Belong—Employing Your Inner Compass ................. 181
Select carefully that to which you belong • Establish an inner house of belonging
Rest in the warm pockets of the world • Find belonging in your longing • Develop an internal Jiminy Cricket • Embrace life as the journey of “becoming” • A Cradle of Wings

On Second Thought—Harnessing Perspective .................................. 199
Choose abundance over scarcity • Harness the power of perspective • Make the connection between thoughts and words • Remember the Rabbi’s Gift • Know when to change the channel • Expand the size of the fishbowl • Rediscover your riches
Take another point of view

At the Feet of the World—Becoming More Teachable ....................... 217
Don’t make history repeat itself • Recognize your teachers • Embrace the gifts of your shortcomings • Eat the coconut and drink its milk • Employ “the last of the human freedoms” • Try the Matisse method • Remember the four magic words
Read your own circumstances

A Heart Contained—Choosing Joy ...................................................... 235
Cultivate joy by acting joyful • Be easily pleased • Make a practice of gratitude
Redefine your wealth • Increase joy by lessening desires • Discover joy rather than pursue happiness • Learn to love many things
I Want to Live in Color—Living Wholeheartedly ........................................... 253
Consider your colors       Accept the dandelions       Feel with the whole heart Fall into your inkpot       Be willing to be considered a crackpot       Believe in impossible things       Increase your inquisitive quotient       Be a heart-dweller Refuse to be tamed by the world

Not One Alike—Valuing Your Part in the Whole ........................................... 271
Recognize your brethren       Judge not       Beware the danger of empathy
Practice compassion       Make haste to be kind       Acknowledge our interconnectedness

Rhythm—Cultivating Balance in Life and Work ........................................... 287
Make balance a priority       Live in clusters and learn to juggle       Be the grasshopper and the ant       Unpack the Swiss cheese       Don’t mistake busyness for engagement Practice “voluntary simplicity”       Honor the need for solitude       Learn to say “no”

Veil of Wonder—Seeing through New Eyes ........................................... 305
Remember the three secrets of the universe       Consider the lilies of the field
Let mystery have its place in you       Listen for the squirrel’s heartbeat       See the pearl Make every day a “holy day”       Trust the sermon of a bird

A Pilgrim’s Plea—Remaining True to the Soul ........................................... 321
Recognize your path as a pilgrim       Seek to know your soul so it can speak to you Trust the compass of soul       Stand resolute that your soul is not for sale       Accept that the vocational journey is a spiritual journey       Take the high road in life and work
Follow the beat of your soul’s drum       Find and go to your forest

Appendix—Everyday Habits as Entrance to Soul ........................................... 342
Bibliography and Suggested Reading ........................................... 346
Source Index ........................................... 350